Submission

Firstly I apologize for being late with a submission in relation to the 2007 Electoral Distribution process.

Basically the Shire of Kulin agrees in principal with the submission prepared by the National Party WA. The proposals submitted by that party will see an electorate made up of predominately like communities and districts throughout the agricultural region. At present the Shire of Kulin is located in the far north west of the electoral district of Roe (along with the Shires of Kent and Lake Grace) with all three areas having little in common with the eastern area of Esperance.

The proposal for a "Central Lakes" region also has the following advantages:

- the town of Narrogin provides the majority of government services to our region and is centrally located. It makes sense to use the town of Narrogin as a central point in the electorate.
- the district clearly has a great deal of Community of Interest in fields such as sport, agricultural mix i.e. wheat, sheep, rainfall etc and transport use and type.

While this submission is brief my Council has read all of the submissions by the three major parties and believe that the National proposal best fits the needs of the agricultural region and consequently we provide our full support.
