To whom it may concern,

It has come to my attention that I will be living in an electoral zone names "Ocean Reef", however Ocean Reef the suburb resides in the electoral zone of Joondalup. This will likely cause confusion to those in both zones, and as such I suggest that this zone be renamed so that this confusion does not occur when elections. If no changes are made, people from Ocean Reef (suburb) will evidently attend the wrong voting locations, and via versa.

My proposed names for this area are:

- Tamala (After the nature reserve that covers a vast majority of this area)
- Neerabup (After the national park that covers a vast majority of this area)
- Burns (After the coastal town that has had a historical context to this area)

Thank-you for your time. I hope that these are taken into account
