Subject: Objection to Swan Hills being renamed Salvado

WAEC 21 AUG 2015

I object to the naming of the electorate as Salvado. For these reasons

1. The reason given is " The founder and first Abbot of the Territorial Abbey at New Norcia, he regularly travelled through the Swan Hills area on his way to and from the new settlement in Perth." Travelling through an area hardly make that person significant to the area
2. It could be confused with being in the western suburbs where Salvado Rd is a main road.
3. Surely there is someone more significant in their contribution to the area bound by this electorate that could be the recognised by the electorate name. This is highly evident in the neighbouring electorate of Mann
4. Most significantly, the settlement set up by Salvado went on to be an institution currently and previously at the centre of inquiries, investigations and Royal Commissions into the miss treatment of those they were assigned to care for.
