It's time you all got real !!! we have a huge state & small population in the country It is grossly unreasonable that our representatives have such huge distances to travel to meet & represent their people. Surely you could accept more reps in remote country . I suggest that it be based on distances to travel by car say 400 k's from a large centre, most likely to be the constituents business centre. Surely that's not too hard for a city slicker to get your head around ???

Regards Robin Barrett
