Hi,

I am Douglas Burns of [REDACTED]

I live in [REDACTED], a northern suburb of Australind which is itself a northern suburb of Bunbury). I am in the current Murray-Wellington electorate.

I have no direct interest in areas to the north of me ( other than the smallish town of Harvey which has a stranglehold on the local council who population centre is principally Australind).

My interests are in the Australind – Eaton- Bunbury area. Principally Australind and Bunbury. Bunbury being the commercial, employment, education and entertainment hub. Australind being similar but on a smaller local scale.

Certainly Mandurah and Pinjarra are a world away.

I submit that I should be part of a local electorate and that the electorate should be suburban based. By that I mean it should be part of the urban electorates covering the Greater Bunbury Area. The current Murray Wellington electorate does not fit the bill adequately as it is a weird conglomerate of Australind- Collie-Donnybrook. Many Australind residents work at South 32 plant at Worsley but there ends the connection.

May you be anointed with the wisdom of Solomon and find a satisfactory resolution to the current anomaly of my electoral situation.

Thanking You in anticipation

Doug
