

Keep a look out for the proposed boundary changes next week

Western Australia's electoral boundaries are being redrawn and we want to know what you think.

Having already considered nearly 60 submissions about how the boundaries should be determined, the Electoral Distribution Commissioners have proposed a new set of boundaries.

A booklet containing the proposed boundaries will be published in a special Government Gazette at 9am on Friday 29 June 2007. Copies of the booklet will also be inserted in The West Australian newspaper on Saturday 30 June 2007 and available for download by noon on Friday 29 June 2007 from the boundaries website at www.boundarieswa.com

The changes proposed may affect you at the next State general election, so please read the information in this booklet carefully. If you wish to offer comment, information about how to make a submission will be included in the booklet and is available on the web site. All written objections will be made available to the public.

For further information please visit www.boundarieswa.com or call 9214 0450 (country callers 13 63 06).
