Manger WAEC

I have sent an e-mail below re WA Boundries.

As per below too many politicians WA 25,000 voters

Federal politicians 120,000

Five times number of WA politicians than – what a disgrace !

UNCLASSIFIED

Dear Mr Babidge,

Thank you for your email I received today.

The boundaries that were released today were the new proposed state boundaries by the Western Australian Electoral Commission not the Federal proposed boundaries. If you would like to forward your comments onto them you can contact them through their email address at boundaries@waec.wa.gov.au.

The Federal Redistribution report is yet to be released. We have had confirmation that the target date for the release of the WA Federal Redistribution proposal report is the 21 August with objections closing 18 sept. The dates should be updated on the website soon.

Regards

Rather than the AEC spread the revised W.A. Boundaries, with the North and South Metropolitan it should have 50,000 voters NOT 25,000 This will have less (some 50% politicians) and less waste and also the same boundaries increased by two-fold in outer areas and less politicians. The Federal Parliament has some 125,000 voters for each seat. Five (5) times many WA politicians as a Federal Member. It is time that instead of growing more politicians and it is clear that with an Upper and Lower house and it costs and waste, no more wasted red tape and double managements. Australia is heavily over-governed and it is also with the Shire Councils that they also have yet another layer, it is all money down the drain.

It is abundantly clear that the waste and double-dipping to fan the Politicians, the voters should stop this ridiculous overload of triple Public Service and reshape the gross wastage and stop this extra red tape.
