Yet again country people are being ignored.
Every time we have a change in government country areas loose out.
Does no one in the city center realize where the wealth and production come from in our great state.
Look at the area you would have one elected representative, mänge, thousands of square miles, totally unworkable
Look at some city area that has changed in population and add to or subtract from there, I am sure there is 1 or 2 .
Stop just thinking of the city electorates , there is a whole state to be considered, and we vote also.
