To Whom It May Concern,

I live in the current electorate of North West Central (Kalbarri), I am totally shocked that the current member for the electorate will be required to service the new electorate of Mid West that encompasses a total of 24 council districts, the proposed changes are proceeded with. Currently the member services 13 council districts so the districts get to see the member on a semi regular basis. Under the proposed changed in the electorate the elected member will have no chance service all districts. I am STRONGLY against the proposed change in the electorate boundaries. I do realise there is a ratio of members of parliament to the population of the electorate, there needs to be a large allowance for the remoteness of the current electorate North West Central. This electorate is responsible for a significant amount of income for the state which will increase in the not too distant future, hence the electorate needs to have a member that can continue the current service not one where a member would have no chance of providing the same service if the proposed change goes ahead.
LEAVE THE CURRENT ELECTORATE BOUNDARIES AS THEY ARE NOW.

Current resident of Kalbarri

Councillor of the Northampton Shire Council
